News Release

Health Professions Council announces election nominees for three remaining professions

July 8th 2005 will bring to an end the term of office of the current Council. All 40 members of Council, including the 13 alternate professional members will stand down. Those professional members who want to seek re-election will stand along with any other individuals wishing put themselves forward.

On the 11th April, the Health Professions Council (HPC) announced the nominees for the Council election for ten of the thirteen professions it regulates. Nominations were not received for the alternate members for speech and language therapists, occupational therapists and orthoptists. For this reason the nomination process was reopened for these three vacancies only and the following nominations have been received:

Occupational Therapists

Sally V Fowler-Davis

Carol Lloyd

Orthoptists

Patricia Blackburn

Theofania Theodorou

Speech and Language Therapists

Martin S Duckworth

Eric W Foggitt

Barbara Anita Molteno

Jacqueline Pearce

Sandra A Walker

The polling date for the elections for all vacancies will remain on the 20th May 2005.
