

NMC establishes special research team

The NMC (Nursing and Midwifery Council) has set up a Research and Special Projects Team (RSPT).

The new team will undertake projects related to strategic regulatory issues that impact on the future of nursing, midwifery and health visitor regulation.

The team, led by NMC Professional Advisor Janice Gosby, will work collaboratively within the NMC and with external partners. Funding for external partners may be available in the form of NMC research grants, similar to those given under the NMC's predecessor, the UKCC (United Kingdom Central Council).
